

How to fundraise using JustGiving

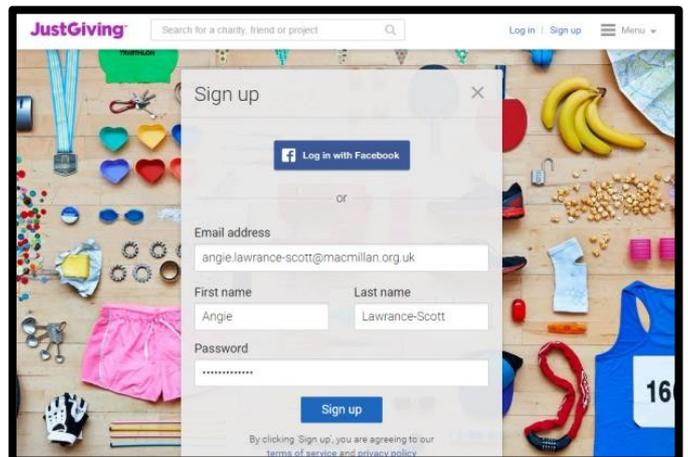

JustGiving is a great tool to use as part of your fundraising for The Macmillan Challenge. . Setting up a page is quick and easy and monies raised go directly to Macmillan. Here's some guidance to help you get set up.

Getting Started

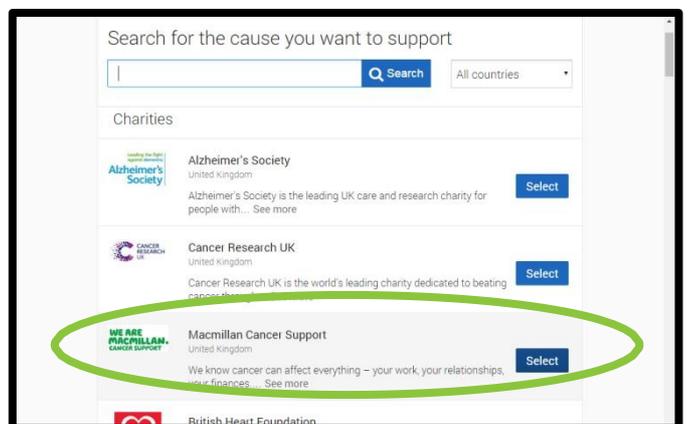

Go to www.justgiving.com and click on the orange button to "Start Fundraising".

You will be asked to set up a JustGiving account.

Make sure you select Macmillan Cancer Support as your chosen charity.

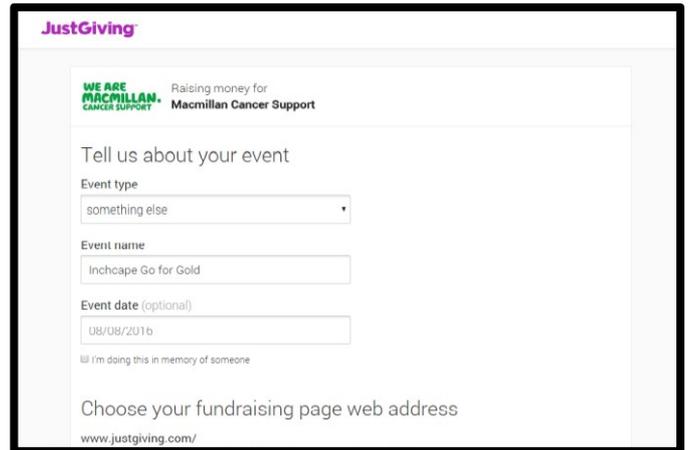

Setting up your event

Under event type select “Personal Challenge”.

You must put “Girlguiding LaSER” somewhere in the Event name so we can link your fundraising to The Macmillan Challenge.

Fill in the information about your event.

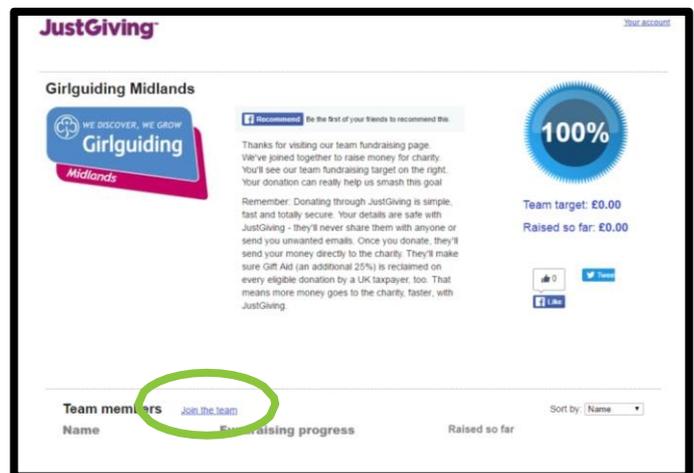

The screenshot shows the 'Tell us about your event' section of the JustGiving website. It includes a dropdown menu for 'Event type' set to 'something else', a text box for 'Event name' containing 'Inchcape Go for Gold', and a text box for 'Event date (optional)' set to '08/08/2016'. There is also a checkbox for 'I'm doing this in memory of someone' and a field for 'Choose your fundraising page web address' with the URL 'www.justgiving.com/'.

Linking to the Team Page

Once you have set up your page you will need to link it to the Girlguiding LaSER campaign page.

Click on “Join the team” to link your page and your fundraising to The Macmillan Challenge.

The screenshot shows the 'Girlguiding Midlands' team fundraising page on JustGiving. It features a '100%' progress indicator, a 'Team target: £0.00' and 'Raised so far: £0.00' display, and a 'Join the team' button circled in green. The page also includes a 'Recommend' button and a 'Sort by: Name' dropdown menu.
